Volume. The full volume of systematic reviews and original research articles is up to 16 pages (36 000 characters); short scientific papers, critiques, polemics and discussions, as well as review papers or translated papers up to 8 pages (about 15 000 characters); and event reports and short reviews up to 2 - 3 pages (about 3800-5600 characters). The editor has the right to accept longer papers if the research requirements are such.

General information about the authors. Name, middle name (initial only) and surname are given in the heading, affiliation in the line below. The third line should include home address or Institution address and the birth year (the birth year is not published, but it is used for paper classification at the National library of Serbia). Position: left. The author's name should be accompanied with a footnote stating the author's e-mail address. If there are several authors, only one (preferably the first author's) address should be provided. If the paper is based on a doctoral thesis, the footnote should include the title of the thesis, place and faculty where the viva took place. Papers resulting from research projects should include the project title and registry number, the funding organisation and institution of its application.

Title of the paper. Three lines below the name. Font: Times New Roman, 12, bold; position: centre.

Summary. It can be up to 1400 characters (with spaces) long, and should be given at the beginning of the paper, one line below the title. It should state the aim of the paper, applied research methods, the most significant results and conclusions. The editorial board provides translation of the summaries into English or translation of extended summaries from other languages into Serbian (if the paper is written in a foreign language). The editorial board does not provide translations of full papers into foreign languages.

Extended summary can be between 3600-5400 characters (with spaces) long. It should contain the aim of the research, significance and (theoretical) context of the problem, precise description of methodological approach, the most significant results and conclusions, pedagogical implications. The extended summary should be submitted in English. Editorial board can provide English translation, if agreed with the author. Extended summary in English is published as the integral part of the electronic edition of the Periodical, for the purpose of obtaining more citations of the papers in the Periodicals which are not in Serbian.

Key words. They are stated below the summary. There should be up to five words in italics, in standard letters, separated by a comma (with a full stop behind the last one). It is advisable to choose terms which are frequently used in indexes and paper search.

The text body. Papers should be written concisely, in a comprehensible style and in a logical order. As a rule, it includes the introductory part with a clearly stated aim or the main problem of the paper, description of methodology, presentation and discussion of the results, and a conclusion with suggestions for further research or praxis. It should also include the description of methodology process, review of the results and interpretation of them.

References in the text. All the references in Serbian in the Reference List should be in Latin Alphabet, no matter which alphabet was used in the text, and alphabet in which the used sources were printed in, referring to books and periodicals.

Literature used is referred to in brackets and included in the body of the text, not in a footnote. Surnames of foreign authors used in the text body are quoted in the original form or are phonetically transcribed in Serbian, accompanied by the original in brackets with the year of publishing included. For example: Mejer (Meyer, 1987). If the paper was written by two authors, surnames of both are stated; in the case of more than two authors, the surname of the first author is stated, followed by “et al.”

Citations. No matter how long, the citation should be followed by a reference to the page number. Example: (Mayer, 1987:38)

Tables, graphs, schemas, pictures. Tables and graphs should be in Word or a similar compatible programme. Each table, graph or schema must be comprehensible without reading the text, i.e. it must be marked with an ordinal number, title and caption (not longer than one line) and the legend (explanation of marks, codes and abbreviations). Pictures should be prepared in the electronic form in the 300 dpi resolution and JPG format. Bolded lines and shading should be avoided. Tables, graphs, schemas and pictures should be inserted in proper places in the text. Showing the same data in table and graph formats is unacceptable. Illustrations taken from other sources (books, journals) must be quoted with the source. Apart from that, a written consent from the copyright owner should be obtained and submitted to the ditorial office.

Tables, graphs, schemas and pictures should be inserted in proper places in the text. Tables and graphs are submitted also in separate files.

Statistical analysis results. Results of statistical interpretations should be presented in the following way:  $F=25.35, df=1.9, p < .001$  or  $F(1,9)=25.35, p < .001$  (as common in the statistics of pedagogical and psychological research).

Footnotes and abbreviations. Not allowed, except in special cases, when they contain additional text (commentary).

List of references. The end of the text should be followed by a list of references quoted in the text, in alphabetical order and in the following way:
